

Thank You

A huge thanks to our partners for supporting the network in its first year, and for those of you who kindly offered your time to present and contribute towards the webinar series.

Special thanks for Lizzie and Megan at Together for Short Lives for supporting the promotion and administration of the network.

CoPPAR 2022 highlights...

Dates for the Diary

We will be continuing our webinar series next year. The first webinar of the year will be held on the 2nd March. Come along to hear from a range of individuals who have embarked on varied research careers in paediatric palliative care, showcasing the varied and rewarding pathways to engaging in research in this field (link to register below)

We will also be hosting the CoPPAR network research toolkit in June. Come along to the event to find out about the toolkit and how it can support you to engage in research in paediatric palliative care (link to register below)

Nurse research network

Supported by CoPPAR funding, a network of research nurses has been established to support and share current research projects/updates in hospices to ensure research remains a high priority within their hospice cultures. Activity to date has included sharing ideas/support on the rollout of CPOS and implementing journal clubs within hospice settings.

The next meeting will be at 1pm on the 30th Jan.
